Sadiq review could lead to legal cannabis

SADIQ Khan has said he will establish a new commission to examine the use of drugs in the capital if he's re-elected as mayor of London.

And it could include moves to legalise dope.

The Labour mayor has pledged to set up a group of independent experts for "fresh ideas" if he wins a new mandate in the May 6 election.

Experts from fields including criminal justice, community relations and public health, will examine evidence on the harms of drugs, support services and prevention, the effectiveness of current laws as well as tackling the root causes of crime.

According to reports, a source close to the mayor said Mr Khan would be willing to consider supporting changes to the legal status of cannabis if that is the view of the commission.

North Korea in Olympics snub

NORTH Korea has said it will not take part in the Tokyo Olympics this year to protect its athletes from COVID-19.

The decision puts an end to South Korea's hopes of using the Games to engage with the North in cross-border talks.

Pyongyang says it has no cases of the virus but experts say this is very likely cobbled as the country's health system is thought to be completely inadequate for dealing with the COVID pandemic.

The announcement makes North Korea the first major country to skip the Games due to begin on July 23.

WORLD WAR 3 BY SUMMER!

NATO alarmed as Russians poised for attack

WORLD War Three is only weeks away and the bombs could start dropping by the SUMMER, an expert has warned.

The arrival of 4,000 Russian troops on the country's border with Ukraine could trigger a nuclear holocaust that would incinerate the planet, according to a military expert on the region.

Pavel Felgenhauer's warnings came as social media showed suspected Russian military build-up close to rebel-held eastern Ukraine and the annexed Crimea region.

"The crisis has the potential to escalate into a pan-European war, if not even a world one," said Felgenhauer, an independent Russian military analyst.

Measures

On Friday, Russia warned that it would "take extra measures" if NATO sends troops to Ukraine as images emerged of Russian tanks amassing at the border.

Last week, the U.S. pledged "unwavering support" to Ukraine.

At the weekend, Ukraine's armed forces announced plans to conduct joint training drills with its NATO allies.

More than 1,000 troops from at least five NATO member states will participate in the training later this year.

The exercises will aim to support Ukraine's "territorial integrity" in the face of "aggression from one of the hostile neighbour countries", a pointed reference to Russia.

A defence source said: "To think we've been worrying about the Chinese flu. In a few weeks there'll be no pandemic because we'll all have been atomised."

STICK YOUR COVID PASSPORTS UP YOUR ARSE, BORIS!

UNDER FIRE: Boris faces flak from Keir Starmer's Labour

BORIS Johnson has been told he can "stick his vaccine passport plans up his arse" as he faces stiff opposition from Labour and his own backbenches.

A Government review into "COVID status certification" found that they could "potentially play a role" in settings such as theatres, nightclubs and mass events, and might also be used in pubs and restaurants to cut distancing restrictions.

The use of certificates, which would include vaccination status, test results or evidence of someone having contracted and recovered from COVID-19, is opposed by at least 40 Tory MPs and Labour, led by Keir Starmer, is also sceptical about the measure.

One Conservative rebel, furious at what he called the "tyrannical" plan, said the PM could "stick the idea up his arse".

The row over vaccine passports came as the Government's scientific advisers warned that further steps along the roadmap to ease England's lockdown could result in another wave of coronavirus cases.

The next stage of the process, on April 12, will see non-essential shops, pub beer gardens and hairdressers among businesses allowed to reopen.

Minutes of a meeting of the Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies (Sage) showed the measures "may only lead to a modest increase in hospitalisations and deaths" and were "unlikely to exert pressure on the NHS".

But the advisers warned that changes planned for May and June, when greater indoor social mixing is set to be permitted again, could cause hospital admissions to rise.

COVID status certificates are being examined by a panel led by Cabinet Office minister Michael Gove.

The Prime Minister has stressed that the Government has not finalised any plans.

Petrol bombs attack on cops

POLICE were attacked during another night of violence and disorder in a number of loyalist areas in Northern Ireland.

Further unrest swept parts of Carrickfergus and Londonderry, with petrol bombs and other missiles thrown at cops.

Cars, a JCB digger and a phone box were set alight in the Waterside area of Londonderry.

Officers from the PSNI Tactical Support Group attended the loyalist Nelson Drive Estate, where a group of youths clashed with police. The surrounding roads were blocked with fires and barricades.

Elsewhere, petrol bombs were thrown at police officers in Carrickfergus, near Belfast.

Earlier, the PSNI has appealed to community leaders to end the disorder.

DVLA staff on COVID strike

STAFF at the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency in Swansea are "scared to go to work" over COVID concerns, a union has said.

Members of the PCS union started a four-day strike at the agency's headquarters yesterday.

DVLA sites in the city have recorded more than 500 COVID cases since September.

Agency officials said they were disappointed by the industrial action, which would affect motorists.

Public Health Wales declared a COVID-19 outbreak at the DVLA's contact centre in Swansea Vale in December.

PCS said it was asking its 3,300 members at the Swansea HQ to strike "to protect workers' safety".

TESTS 'COULD COST MORE THAN FARE'

THE boss of EasyJet has said testing requirements under a proposed "traffic light" system for travelling internationally would be too expensive.

Under the system, no isolation would be needed on return to the UK from so-called "green" countries.

But pre-departure and post-arrival tests would be required, potentially costing up to £200 each.

Johan Lundgren said: "You wouldn't open up international travel for everyone, but only those who can afford it."

Mr Lundgren told the BBC's Today programme that the cost of getting the tests would exceed a typical EasyJet fare.

On Sunday, plans for a risk-based system to restart foreign travel were outlined, in which countries would be classified as "green", "amber" or "red" based on their infection rates and vaccination coverage. However, while the Prime Minister said he was "hopeful" that non-essential foreign travel could begin again on May 17, he added that more data was needed before a firm decision could be taken.

Mr Lundgren said the testing requirements were "concerning", but added he still expected holidays in the summer months of July and August would be able to go ahead.

LOVE Island temptress Megan Barton Hanson just wanted to pose in some revealing clothes and show herself off on social media.

But social media can be a double-edged sword – especially when the Daily Mail's now legendary rude commenters unzip their trousers and let rip.

Blonde Megan, 27, was subjected to a barrage of online abuse on Bank Holiday Monday for daring to be attractive.

HankChinaski, writing from Bhopal, Wallis and Futuna, snarled: "Seen more j4ps eyes than a Nissan's wing mirror."

Stinging

The comment was not only sexist, it was also RACIST, as the expression "Jap's eye" is frowned upon in these liberal times.

KLF, from MuMu, somewhere in the UK, blasted: "More hands up her than Sooty."

The Rt Hon Lord Melbury, in Torquay, penned: "Been at more bedsides than Dr Kildare."

And Real_Brit, in York, lowered the

The stinging online comments continued throughout the day, too.

Osmia Bicornis, in England, also jumped into the anonymous firing squad, sneering about sizzling Megan: "Margarine legs.... Easily spread!!!"

A showbiz source said: "The world will be a much safer place once these under-the-line Daily Mail commenters are silenced for good."

JADA Pinkett Smith has admitted to having a "sexual attraction" to women.

The actress, 49, along with daughter Willow, 20, revealed they have both been "infatuated" with women.

Speaking on their show Red Table Talk, Jada (above) – who has been married to Will Smith since 1997 – opened up about her attraction to the same sex.

"Two times I've been infatuated with a woman," she recalled.

And Willow chimed in: "I've had my fair share of swooning and being like, 'Oh my God, she's so beautiful. She's so talented'."

"I don't feel like I've been in love with a woman just yet, but I definitely feel like it could happen because I've had very strong feelings for women before."

In 2019, the singer revealed she believes in polygamy.

UK reality star Chloe has been one of the trailblazers but the trend has rubbed off on ordinary folks, with Instagram feeds becoming flooded with women rocking the risqué outfit trend.

Women regret casual sex but are TOO HORNY to stop

WOMEN tend to regret casual sex more than men but they're too horny to stop themselves having more one-night stands, a new study reveals.

Researchers found women experience higher levels of 'sexual regret' – meaning they're more likely to wish they hadn't hooked up with a random person.

But women who do regret a one-night stand don't feel bad enough about it to change their behaviour for next time, likely due to the power of a high sex drive.

Men regret passing up 'short-term sexual opportunities' more than women.

The experts found little evidence that sexual regret is 'functional' – it doesn't really contribute to any real change in behaviour.

In women, this change of behaviour would be reducing the number of one-night stands, as well as choosing better quality partners and shifting strategies to long-term relationships.

"For the most part, people continue with the same sexual behaviour and the same level of regret," said study author Professor Leif Edward Ottesen Kennair at the Norwegian University of Science and Technology (NTNU).

Researchers recruited 621 participants who answered a questionnaire about sexual regret twice at 4.5-month intervals.

Men more than women reported regret passing up short-term sexual opportunities – termed 'inaction regret' – while women reported regret having had sexual encounters – called 'action regret'.

Women, and some men, feel regret for engaging in casual sex but this emotion isn't powerful enough to overcome human lust.

When the opportunity for sex arises 'and horniness takes over', we react just like the time before.

Other notable roles were as Guy Haines in the 2008 James Bond film Quantum Of Solace.

Eamonn and wife Ruth Langford spoke to model Charlotte Rose on This Morning about how she earns £130,000-a-month selling racy content online.

And fun-loving Eamonn, who was hospitalised last week with spinal pain, even joked that he might try his hand as an OnlyFans model!

Charlotte, who charges around £7-a-month for access to her OnlyFans, which is called "Ex British Cop", said: "When I was modelling, I had very strict morals that I wasn't going to cross a boundary for the level of content I was willing to go up to."

"I made sure to never cross that line to put out content."

She added: "Somebody said to me, why don't I go and become a dog handler. I love animals, so I thought to myself I could definitely see myself doing that."

"I kind of did that

"I knocked that on the head, decided to stop that and became a model by accident. I was approached a year or two into that and then asked to do OnlyFans."

"I was on there within two or three months of it starting. I was one of the girls who was on OnlyFans before it was even a thing."

Speaking of her fortune, Charlotte said: "I have to pinch myself, it feels a bit like Monopoly money because it goes straight into your bank account."

Probed on whether she would be happy with her former colleagues seeing her photos, she admitted: "It's a little bit weird not knowing who's on the other side of it, but I've got used to it now."

And Eamonn couldn't resist asking: "Would there be a market for a middle-aged television presenter?"

Laughing, Charlotte responded: "There's a market for everyone."

The presenter then went on to tease Ruth by asking: "How much should I charge?"

Giggling, Ruth replied: "What're you gonna show us? How far will you go?"

Eamonn quipped: "Are moobs acceptable?"

DEMI Lovato has become the latest celebrity to receive a minge-diddling dildo from Goop founder Gwyneth Paltrow. A week after the Oscar winner sent newly-single Kim Kardashian a new vibrator and a sex-themed candle, Gwyneth sent a similar package to Demi (above), 28.

The package featured a vibrator, sex gel and a candle called This Smells Like Demi's Orgasm.

Demi captioned the video: "Wowowow thank you @GwynethPaltrow you're a real one."

The self-pleasure set will come in handy for the star, who recently came out as pansexual, which means she enjoys cock AND minge.

Chief Operating Officer Steve Simpson will take over the business, saving 2,000 jobs and 200 stores, which he hopes to reopen once lockdown restrictions on non-essential retailers ease.

The chain was part of retail mogul Philip Day's Edinburgh Woollen Mill fashion empire which collapsed last year.

Mr Day was the biggest creditor of Peacocks and is owed money by the business he once owned.

Administrators made a deal with him which will eventually see him get his money back.

She was found sleeping naked on an air mattress in one of the man's bedrooms.

Jovita told authorities that she used to live at the residence in 2009, was slightly confused and felt like she had a right to be there.

As she was determined to stay put, police at the scene felt they had no choice but to make an arrest.

During Jovita's arrest, however, things turned ugly when she decided to spit on an officer.

As a consequence, she also faces a second charge of harassment of a public servant.

She is currently being held in custody at Bell County Jail.

Bloodied naked woman charged with break-ins

A WOMAN found naked at a beauty spot is facing charges for allegedly breaking into several holiday cabins.

The drama started when a cop found a car with its engine running beside an empty cabin.

A variety of unusual items were scattered between the vehicle and the door of the cabin at Parker Dam State Park, Pennsylvania, including a pair of women's underwear that were frozen solid.

The registration of the vehicle was traced to Maggie Naddeo, 23, of Clearfield, Pennsylvania.

Officers then spotted a completely nude woman with blood covering the front of her body and lacerations on both legs.

Officers said she was speaking "gibberish".

A check found that several nearby cabins had been broken into and Naddeo's blood was spotted around the break-ins.

Naddeo is charged with four counts of criminal trespass, indecent exposure, criminal mischief and disorderly conduct.

She is scheduled for a preliminary court hearing on April 16.

20-mile motorway tailback was caused by a COW crash!

A ROGUE cow that fell off a livestock trailer on a busy motorway caused a 20-MILE tailback as cops tried to round it up.

The bovine caused chaos at 9am on I-285 in Dunwoody, near Atlanta, Georgia, running on the road and at one point forcing a three-lane closure.

Local cops, with the help of a bystander with a rope, were able to successfully lasso the cow and get it back to its owner.

"Chasing people is a norm for officers. However, chasing cows on the interstate... not so much," the Dunwoody Police Department wrote in a Facebook post about the animal rescue.

A spokesman for the haulage company that lost the beast apologised for the chaos and said the steer was now safely minced into burgers.

TEENAGER'S 1,000 MILE DRIVE TO BONK NUDE PICS GIRL

CHARGED:
Gaudette
sent boy
explicit
photos
and videos

A WOMAN sent nude photos and videos to a teenager and lured him 1,000 miles to her home to have sex, officials said.

Kelley Gaudette, 32, was arrested by cops 10 months after the 15-year-old she met in an online chatroom was found at her home.

The teen, last spotted at his New York home, texted his mother a day later to say he was at a gated community called either "Brooksville" or "Brooksridge", officials said.

The 15-year-old was located 1,000 miles away by Hernando County, Florida, deputies at Gaudette's home, but she initially denied he was there.

Abusive

"Gaudette eventually went into the house and had the juvenile come to the door to speak to the deputy," sheriff officials said in a statement.

"Upon speaking to the juvenile, the deputy noted the teen appeared to have hickies on his neck."

The teen said he was trying to escape a verbally abusive living situation in New York while claiming his mother told him he could travel to Florida.

The woman told investigators her son had been treated for mental illness and didn't have his medication.

The teen and Gaudette denied having a sexual relationship.

She claimed she looked on the teen as a son, offered him a place to stay and paid a friend to drive him to Florida.

But the teen's mother found text messages indicating the pair had a sexual relationship, as well as her son's thumbdrive which contained nude images and videos of Gaudette, sheriff officials said.

The teen admitted earlier this month to authorities in New York that Gaudette sent him explicit photos and videos using an online app.

He also said the pair started a sexual relationship when he arrived at her home.

Gaudette, who has denied any sexual contact with the teen, is facing charges of lewd and lascivious battery, travelling to meet a minor, unlawful use of a two-way communication device and transmission of harmful materials to a minor using an electronic device.

'Gender reveal' air stunt a deadly flop

A "gender reveal" went tragically wrong when a plane streaming a sign about a baby girl plunged into the sea, killing two people on board while the parents-to-be and their guests watched in horror from a boat.

The expecting couple, family and friends were gleefully watching the flyover in the Nichupte Lagoon off the coast of Cancun, Mexico.

"It's a girl!" the guests are heard screaming as the single-engine Cessna 206, rented from a firm called Xomex, flew overhead and performed a series of stunts.

One person on the boat even made a chilling joke, saying, "It's all good as long as it doesn't end up crashing into us!"

Moments later, the aircraft nosedived into the lagoon.

NAKED DRUGS CHEAT IN 'WALK OF SHAME'

A MAN has been arrested after he was caught doing a drug-fuelled 'walk of shame' in the nude, with only a clear plastic bag covering his genitals.

Michael Boatman, 41, was observed ambling down a street in Spartanburg, South Carolina, in his birthday suit, with a marijuana cigarette clutched in his hand.

When questioned by cops at the scene, Boatman said he was doing a 'walk of shame' as a 'penance' for cheating on his wife.

Boatman then asked the officers if he could complete his walk, but was told that he could not.

The bare-naked suspect 'referenced Adam and Eve from the Bible, stating that he was willing to go to jail for his acts', according to the arrest documents.

Boatman (left) also allegedly admitted to using methamphetamine prior to going on his walk.

He is facing charges of indecent exposure, disorderly conduct, marijuana possession and resisting police.

SHE was the sitcom babe who shocked the world by becoming a see-it-going-in PORN STAR!

And now ravishing Maitland Ward is going back to her roots by appearing in a mainstream sitcom again.

But there's a twist.

Because in a nod to her new career, the flame-haired 44-year-old will play a porn star in the show.

Reigning AVN Best Actress Maitland is the star and producer of new comedy series The Big Time, now in development with Leaving Normal Productions and slated to begin shooting in May.

Ward stars as a world-famous adult actress trying to save a waning production studio on the brink of collapse by hiring a nerdy aspiring writer to help breathe new life into her scenes.

She made the leap into adult in 2019 and has done full and oral, threesome, lesbian and ANAL porn shoots.

Raging long wait customer shot at Burger King staff

A WOMAN opened fire inside a Burger King drive-thru window after apparently becoming enraged about the wait time.

Surveillance photos show the unhinged customer leaning through the Memphis, Tennessee, fast-food joint's open window while brandishing a black handgun.

In one image, the woman holds up the firearm with both hands (above) and aims it inside the drive-thru window.

Cops said the woman got into an argument with workers because she felt her order was taking too long to complete.

She then grabbed the gun from her car and fired several shots at the staffers, police said.

The employees fled through a back door and were unharmed.

Cops are hunting the deranged patron.

A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered by Crime Stoppers of Memphis and Shelby County Inc. for information that leads to an arrest.

Customs busts smuggler and his 29 birds

A SMUGGLER redefined "flying cheep" after getting busted at John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York with 29 live birds concealed inside hair rollers.

The 26-year-old Georgetown, Guyana, native was en route to New Jersey when US Customs and Border Protection (CBP) found the finches during a luggage inspection.

And while the smuggler wasn't criminally charged, he was fined £250.

The would-be trafficker was flown back to Guyana while the critters were quarantined and handed over to the US Department of Agriculture Veterinary Services.

US customs takes bird-trafficking seriously due to the threat of avian flu, which resulted in the culling of 50 million chickens and turkeys in the US in 2015.

BACK WOMEN'S LIB & GET MORE PUSSY OFFICIAL

PRETENDING to support women's rights is a sure-fire way to get more fanny, and that's OFFICIAL!

Tutting at so-called "gender stereotypes" and calling yourself a feminist gets birds frothing at the gash, according to psychologist Max Stick.

Boffin Stick, from McMaster University in Canada, co-authored a report with sociologist Tina Fetner to find out if blokes who "identify as feminists" get plenty of clunge.

And it appears they do. Stick pointed out that in 2015 Justin Trudeau said he was a feminist and it's been noted that birds around the world would love to suck his cock.

Former US First Lady Melania Trump famously dripped at the clacker when Trudeau gave her a peck on the cheek.

Stick explained: "Of all the straight Canadian men surveyed, we found that only about 22 per cent of men actually identified as feminist. Most men, around 60 per cent, said they were not feminists, and about 18 per cent were 'not sure'.

"We found feminist men had more sex than non-feminist men. Specifically, feminist men reported having intercourse and both performing and receiving oral sex with women partners more recently than non-feminist men.

"While feminist men reported giving oral sex to their partners more recently, they also engaged in intercourse and received oral sex more recently than non-feminist men, suggesting they do not sacrifice their own pleasure."

THE BUTCHER OF ROSTOV

Monster who ate 56 people

ANDREI Chikatilo was born in 1936 in the midst of a mass famine in Ukraine.

He began life in a one-room hut for farmers who were struggling to make ends meet in the dire agricultural recession.

His childhood was an unhappy, lonely one, living under the impression that his older brother had been kidnapped and cannibalised by the neighbours.

He was small in stature and relatively weak, which led to bullying, though most of the torment he experienced came after his father was taken prisoner during World War II.

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

As a consequence of his father's "cowardice" he was targeted by his peers. His one consolation was that he was exceptionally bright and graduated at the top of his class.

Awkward

But the stick he had received at the beginning of his life had turned him into an awkward and self-hating man.

He attempted several relationships during his adolescence, all of which ended when he was unable to perform sexually.

On top of his small stature, his impotence was just another reason for his peers to mock him.

Fearing that girls were talking about him behind his back, he even attempted suicide.

In 1957, Chikatilo's life almost turned around when he was drafted into the Soviet Army.

He served his conscripted time perfectly, and upon completing it joined the Communist party with an unblemished work record.

He married a few years later to a woman whom his younger sister had introduced him to. Despite his impotence, the woman bore two children, a daughter and a son.

Chikatilo even began taking courses in Russian literature and completed a five-year course in the subject at Rostov University.

Before long, he was teaching the subject himself at a local boarding school.

But despite the new and improved direction his life was taking, the weak and ridiculed young boy that he had been was still lurking inside him.

When he couldn't keep his students in line, he retaliated, sexually assaulting two of them.

He wasn't punished for either assault and was still allowed to perform his duties at the school, one of which included patrolling the girl's dormitories.

Eventually, the school was forced to fire him after complaints of abuse began surfacing, but apart from the firing, he was not punished any further.

But now something had triggered Chikatilo. No longer was he content to live his life, quietly

IN 1982, Russian authorities were on the hunt for a serial killer.

The number of bodies that had turned up, all killed and mutilated in the same way, had led police to believe it was the work of one person, and that that one person would kill again.

They believed they were looking for a younger man, likely in his 30s, probably a grifter.

They weren't looking for a local father of two, a former military man in his fifties, which was just what Andrei Chikatilo, dubbed the Red Ripper of Rostov, actually was.

And they definitely weren't aware of the chilling body count their killer had racked up.

When he was eventually caught, he would admit to killing and eating parts of at least 56 people.

REAL CANN

MISSED CHANCE: Chikatilo was held a number of times

TOOLS OF DEATH: Chikatilo had a vast collection of knives taking ridicule, now he wanted revenge.

Though it was never proven, as another man was arrested and later convicted, it is widely believed that Andrei Chikatilo's first murder was that of nine-year-old Yelena Zakotnova in September of 1978.

Spots of the girl's blood were found near his home and her backpack had been found on the riverbank at the end of his street.

A witness had also described a man who sounded a lot like Chikatilo being at a bus stop with the girl shortly before she died.

Alibi

But another man, who had previously been convicted of a similar crime, was convicted instead, despite his airtight alibi.

The horrific murder, if Chikatilo had done it, seemed to lead him to

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Remember when the Net was fun?

I'M seriously thinking of coming off, and staying off, social media*.

It's just not that much fun any more.

Nor is the internet, for that matter.

Remember the simple joy of your old dial-up connection finally pinging, and you suddenly had access to the Yahoo search engine, your Hotmail account and – of course – a bit of cheeky porn?

We were in a brave new world.

A world that our children will never understand because, to them, the internet is as commonplace as having a mop outside the back door once was to us.

They have no idea of a world where accessing acres of flesh would involve either a very brave visit to the newsagent or 24-hour garage, or a potentially fruitless search beneath a soggy bush in your local park.

Mad

And they certainly can't sit in wonder as a brand new movie suddenly appears on your massive telly box.

To them, that's just what the telly does. Duh!

But back then, the internet was actually something really good.

Everyone was in love with it, and no one didn't want to be on it.

But then something came along called Friends Reunited – and that was it. The beginning of the end.

Or the beginning, at least, of when we all went mad.

Friends Reunited was bad enough. We immediately started nosing on our old girlfriends, or girls we'd always wanted but failed to have slept with.

Affairs were had, marriages collapsed, families broke up.

It was all very 2002. But by today's standards it was pretty clunky and, besides, within a couple of years there was a new kid in town...

The canny people responsible for Friends Reunited luckily sold up for squillions before a U.S. college start-up based pretty much along the same lines got going.

Facebook would build on its older rival's look-em-up-and-hopefully-shag-em premise, but way of life. And it was only going to get worse.

Much worse. Because in 2006, along came the mother of all things terrible.

I can remember reading someone describing going on Twitter as akin to dipping your nectar-coated head into a beehive.

It's a pretty accurate description – on the grounds you're a bit mad to do it in the first place, and almost certain to get yourself hurt.

Yet still we do it. We used to wake up wondering what the weather was like. Now we check our phones to find out.

Not just about the weather, though, but to see whatever our friends have had for breakfast, whatever our PM has been blathering on about overnight, or who's called us a c*** again on Twitter.

It's all so bloody exhausting. So I'm going to cut and paste this and triumphantly post it somewhere.

*Of course I won't. Just like far too many others, I'm totally addicted. Bugger.

facebook

with extra room for photos, and yet more photos, and access to seemingly everyone on the planet.

More affairs were had, more marriages collapsed, more families broke up.

All very 2004. Social media had arrived big time – and with it, a whole new

A WOMAN ended up in handcuffs after pretending she'd been shot as an April Fools' prank, police said.

Arnthia Willis, 58, allegedly called her daughter, told her of the "shooting" and then hung up.

The alarmed daughter called the emergency services, resulting in 15 cops responding to Willis's home in full protective gear with guns drawn and paramedics in tow.

Officers broke the door down but found no one inside.

They later learned that Willis, of Wichita, Kansas, was actually at work and had allegedly made up the shooting as a joke.

The prankster (above) was arrested on suspicion of an unlawful request for emergency service assistance.

Police Lt. Ronald Hunt said that while April Fools' jokes can be "good," when police become involved, "it's not funny any more." "This is a situation that is very dangerous," he said.

A MAN in police custody allegedly stole a patrol car and drove off – apparently without the use of his hands.

A cop was bringing Joshua Swartwout, 23, to a local detention facility but had pulled over to help out at a motorcycle crash scene near the town of Atwood, Kansas.

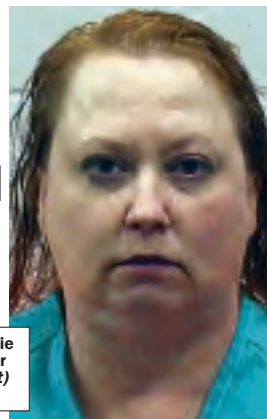

Swartwout managed to get behind the wheel of the patrol car and drive off, leading police on an hour-long chase that only ended when the cop car ran out of petrol in the town of Edson.

Swartwout, from Florida, got out and ran. He still had his hands cuffed behind his back.

After catching him and taking him to jail, a police source said: "What we can't work out is how he steered the police car for an hour with his hands cuffed behind his back."

THREESOME VICAR SHOT DEAD BY WIFE'S LOVER

MURDER PLOT: Kristie Evans 'begged' lover Kahlil Square (right) to kill her husband

VERBAL ABUSE: Pastor David Evans

The wife of a VICAR has confessed to plotting his murder with a man the couple met up with for threesomes.

Kristie Evans, 47, was arrested after admitting to her role in the fatal shooting of David Evans, pastor of Harmony Free Will Baptist Church in Ada, Oklahoma.

Mrs Evans called cops to report an intruder busted into the couple's home and shot her 50-year-old husband, who was pronounced dead at the scene.

But an investigation revealed Kristie Evans and a man she and her husband met up with at a hotel for sex "on more than one occasion" had plotted to kill him.

The alleged gunman, 26-year-old Kahlil Square, was taken into custody at a home in Newalla, Oklahoma.

Cops said David Evans, his wife and Square had their first threesome at a motel months earlier.

Slut

"On one of those occasions, Kristie secretly dropped her phone number on the floor for Kahlil," a police spokesman said. "Kristine continued to communicate by phone daily with Kahlil without David's knowledge."

Kristie Evans told investigators Square stayed at the couple's home from March 17 to 19 while her husband was on a missionary trip to Mexico.

She also claimed her husband was verbally abusive – regularly calling her "slut, fat, ugly and whore".

Evans told Square about the abuse and said "it would be nice to have more freedom".

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Square and Evans then plotted the murder as David was in Mexico, authorities said.

The plan was for Kahlil to come into the house in the middle of the night and shoot David with the gun and ammunition that actually belonged to David and that Kristie had given Kahlil, Oklahoma Bureau of Investigations Captain Beth Green said.

Surveillance footage allegedly shows Square's white Ford Mustang outside the house the morning he was shot.

An affidavit shows Evans told her daughter prior to confessing that she had "begged" Square to kill her husband, who was shot in the head as he lay in bed.

Kristie Evans also admitted giving Square the gun and bullets used in the slaying and left a back door unlocked for him to get inside.

She said she hid in the living room until she heard a "pop" from the bedroom and then called for help as Square ran out a back door, the affidavit states.

Kristie Evans and Square are now facing first-degree murder charges.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a 58-year-old fella and I live in a block of flats where my neighbours are mostly middle-aged divorced women.

Two of them are really fit and last week the three of us decided to have a couple of lagers at my place.

One thing led to another and I ended up mounting one from behind as I played with the other one – before swapping over.

Then I climbed on one in the missionary position and gave her a proper rodding, before doing the same with her pal.

Now one of my lovers has suggested they both move into my flat.

It's tempting, from the sex angle, but I like being free and single.

What do you think?

GE, Birmingham

Ashleigh says...

WHATEVER you decide, just keep bonking – it will keep you all young and fit!

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a big fan of EastEnders but my girlfriend, who is from up north, is a Coronation Street nut who records all the episodes so she can view them over and over.

I think she's crackers but I realise we all have to make some sacrifices.

Mind you, she does reward me by letting me do her up the bum once a week and also gives me a daily blowjob.

But having sat through all these episodes, I've started picking up a Mancunian accent.

Any advice?

KD, east London

Ashleigh says...

COUNT yourself lucky that she's not into watching old episodes of Crossroads!

Dear Ashleigh,

MY bird's best mate has just split up with her long-term boyfriend.

She's a really fit blonde – with great legs, a lovely round arse and a cracking pair of boobs.

I saw her in the pub a few days ago and she said that she had always fancied me and would like to have sex with me until she finds a new boyfriend.

I'm tempted, as she said she wouldn't tell my bird and I've heard she's absolutely filthy in bed.

What do you think?

NH, Manchester

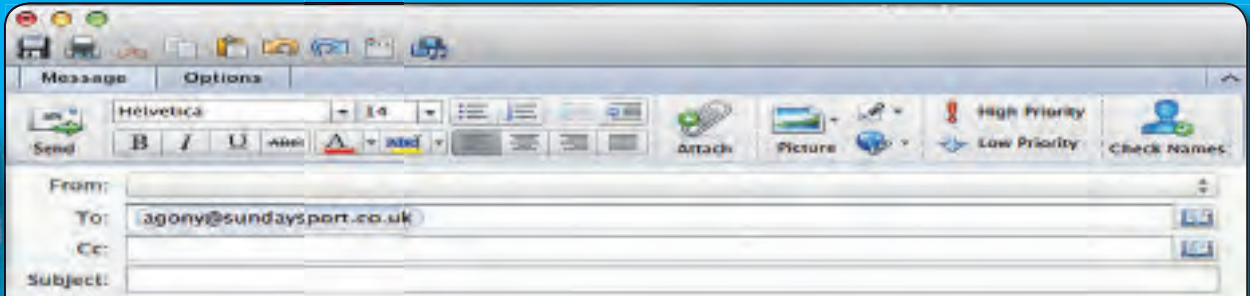

Ashleigh says...

IF you can trust her, go for it – but it sounds a bit dodgy.

Busty barmaid pulled more than just a pint!

Dear Ashleigh,

A COUPLE of weeks ago, a brand new busty barmaid started work at my local pub.

She's in her mid-40s and is a typical pint-puller – all tight skirts, low-cut tops and a face caked in make-up.

I'm in the boozier most nights for a couple of drinks and the "crack" with some of the locals – anything to get away from the nagging wife for a few hours.

One night, it was a bit quiet and as the barmaid was pulling my second pint I realised I was the only customer in the place.

She had a wicked grin on her face and told me to watch the bar for a minute while she went to the front door of the pub and locked it.

Horny

I told her she'd get a bollocking from the landlord, but she laughed and said he'd gone out for the night and wouldn't be back until the early hours.

Then she grabbed my wrist and led me upstairs to the private quarters.

She said it was obvious that I wanted a shag and as she was feeling horny too, there was no point in messing about.

She leaned forward so her boobs spilled out of her top and rubbed them in my face.

At the same time, I felt her fingers unzipping my pants and she pulled out my cock and began wanking it quite vigorously.

Then she fell backwards on to a sofa with her skirt pulled up and her panties down and skillfully guided my knob into her pussy.

I hardly had time to do some serious shagging before I'd shot my load.

She cried out in ecstasy – but wasn't satisfied with that.

Soon she was sucking me hard again and I had to f**k her twice more before she'd let me go!

Now she wants me to leave my wife and move in with her.

But I could never dump my missus for such a brassy trollop.

What should I do?

TD, Leeds

Ashleigh says...

FIND another pub.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'VE been dating my girlfriend for three months. She's 21 and blonde – with a cracking pair of tits.

She loves taking it in every hole and she gives the best blowjobs I've ever had.

But, the best thing about her is her 39-year-old mum, who's also blonde but better-looking with a nice figure.

I've had loads of wanks about her since I caught her taking off her clothes for a shower and saw her 36DDs in the flesh.

She actually gave me a cheeky smile and wiggled her arse at me!

I'm torn between making a move on her or telling my girl what her mum did.

BW, Dorset

Ashleigh says...

MAKE a move and see what happens...

Dear Ashleigh,

MY wife and I went away on holiday to Spain recently.

She's 36 and pretty fit, but we don't often have sex these days.

On our first night, when we had finished our meal, she said she felt tired and went back to the hotel room to get some sleep.

I said I would go for a beer in the town and try not to disturb her later.

In one bar I got talking to a young English girl. She was flirty and offered to take me outside with her.

On the beach, this gorgeous blonde babe went to work, licking and sucking on my length and cradling my balls in her hands as I lay on the sand.

Then I dropped to my knees to peel off her G-string with my teeth.

She had a bush that was trimmed neatly with a landing strip and I slid my tongue into her fanny.

Finally, I bent her over and gave her a right good seeing-to.

But imagine my surprise when I went down to breakfast the next morning with the wife and found out the girl I had shagged was our waitress!

She blabbed to the wife, who's now not talking to me.

What shall I do?

DM, Kent

Ashleigh says...

SAY sorry and book another holiday.

Massive trouser snake made me hiss with joy

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a 23-year-old woman and I work in a pet shop. A couple of weeks ago a man came in just as I was locking up.

He said he was interested in buying a large, exotic snake. But after a while it was HIS snake that I started to show an interest in!

I noticed a bulge developing in his trousers as he seemed to be turned on by my sales patter.

But I carried on and he slipped his hand into his pocket and I could see him playing with himself.

I was getting a bit excited myself by that time, so I told him I would show him a few reptiles.

I led him to my back room, but I guess he must have twigged what I had in mind.

Thrusting

As soon as I'd closed the door behind us, he unzipped his pants and brought out the most amazing trouser-snake I've ever seen.

It must have been at least 10 inches long and a good three inches in girth.

I bent over a table and he was soon thrusting away at me with his monster cock. I let out a squeal of delight as my dam burst.

He promised he'd come back the next day to pick up his pet snake – but he never returned.

Do you think I put him off by making myself such an easy lay?

#HOT'N'HORNY

I NK-credible Daniella Mae says she once got chatted up by a hunk...but he turned out to be more interested in her TATTS than her TITS!

Daniella, 26, from Windsor, Berks, said: "This guy came over to me in a bar and I thought, 'Here we go', as he was really fit.

"I'd seen him looking at me and wondered when he was going to make his play.

Frustrating

"As it turned out, he just asked loads of questions about where I got my tattoos done.

"And then, to add insult to injury, I walked this other nice-looking bloke and it turns out it's the hunk's BOYFRIEND.

"The pair of them went off together, leaving me on my own.

"How frustrating is that?"

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Down on Abby this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabham (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhams have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small*** and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of nosh as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabham, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabham, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabham, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabham, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

CHEF Kevin Bennett would be happy to serve up his meat 'n' two veg to gorgeous glamour legend Kathy Lloyd.

Kevin, 64, cooks up a storm in his local pub kitchen in Southport and he'd give himself to his Scouse neighbour on a plate.

He said: "Those 36E boobs get me going every time."

"I'd definitely give her a taste of my sausage!"

"I'd serve up sausage for starter, meat and two veg for her main and then she can have some cream for dessert – she'd have the best meal of her life!"

The 28-year-old works at his local pool in Dorset during the winter and as a beach lifeguard in summer.

DIONNE Warwick famously sang Do You Know The Way To San Jose? but until now we'd had no good reason to go to the Californian city.

Now we do! Gorgeous Satinee Capona is a native of the major technology hub and she'd be well worth travelling to see.

Impressive

And despite San Jose being the capital of Silicon Valley, there's not a scrap of silicone in Satinee's impressive 34G busters.

The 28-year-old said: "I've got a load of fans in the UK and, as it happens, I have a great aunt who lives in Sittingbourne, Kent."

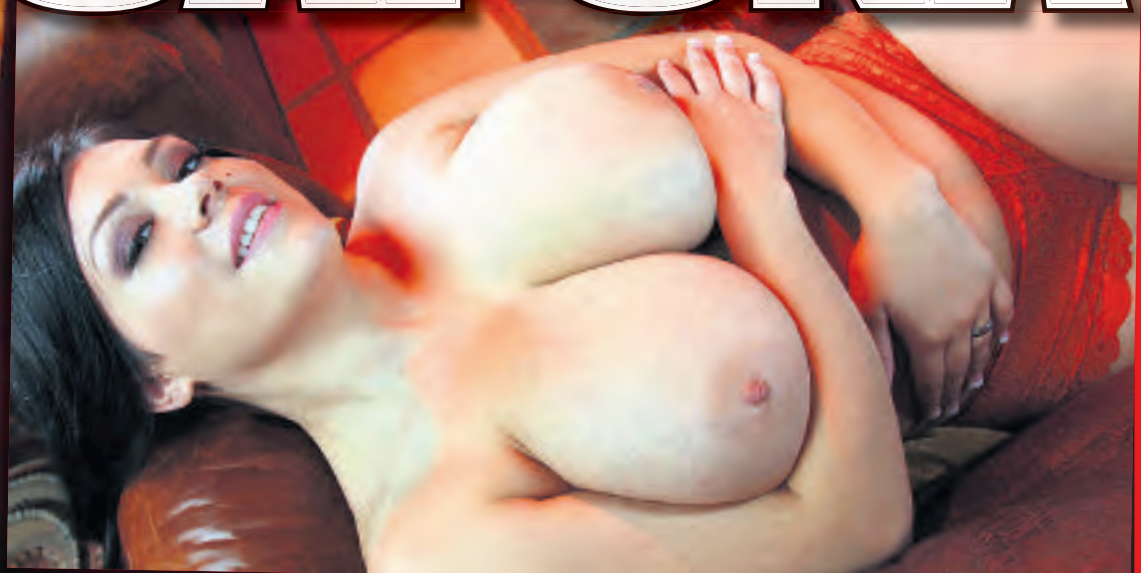

Lucky Yank telly fans get to see a lot of Satinee in the reality TV show Bad Girls Club: Social Disruption.

TOUGH TIMES: Santo

Wolves have to bare teeth blasts gaffer

By JOHN ANTHONY

NUNO Espirito Santo admits he's having the toughest run of his time as Wolves boss. The Midlanders were fantastic in their first two years back in the top flight but things haven't gone to plan this season.

They are stuck in the bottom third of the table and the Portuguese admits it's tough being away from his family during the pandemic.

He said: "I think it is the toughest season, the toughest moment due to the pandemic. It is a challenge for everyone."

"The most important thing is that we stay close to each other and support each other through this situation."

"It is truly demanding on all aspects of society."

Wolves' problems on the pitch stem from the long-term injury to striker Raul Jimenez.

Scoring goals has been tough since the big man fractured his skull in November.

Youngster Fabio Silva has struggled to fill his boots and there's no Diogo Jota who is now banging them in for Liverpool.

Nuno knows it's an issue he hasn't really solved.

He added: "It has been a different challenge because of the situations we have faced."

"A lot of different circumstances that did not happen to us before that have required a different approach."

"We have always had small issues that create problems for us. The moment that you fix them, there is another one coming.

"Sometimes you have struggles in defence and concede easy goals that make your task much harder."

"We faced that problem during the season that we always conceded first. That requires a big reaction from the team."

"There was a moment when we were not able to perform as well in the first half as we were in the second half so there was that fear."

"We faced those different situations. So it is not about conceding or not scoring goals, it is about finding the balance that we need."

"Players need to improve, realising that we did not perform well in part of the season."

"We cannot repeat that again. This is what we are working on, realising that to achieve things in football you must react, you must bounce back from difficult periods."

WHO CARES IF WE WIN CUP?

Pep happy without Champions League

By PAUL THOMAS

PEP Guardiola says Man City DON'T have to win the Champions League to consider themselves a big club.

It's a constant theme that, despite all their domestic success, they have yet to lift a European trophy since the 1970 Cup-Winners' Cup.

Guardiola knows he's under pressure to win the biggest prize but says it's not the be-all and end-all.

Pep added: "We are already a big club but of course everyone is here and wants to try to do better than we have done in these competitions."

"With our history and especially since we are together we can do it."

"For the fact is we want to do it, but at the end it is a football game 11 against 11 and we are going to do as much as possible."

Guardiola admits City blew a huge chance to at least make the Champions League final last season when they were knocked out by Lyon.

He is still coming to terms with the missed opportunity.

The Spaniard said: "It remained in my head for weeks. It was painful."

"It was the last game of the season and we wanted to go through."

"We congratulated Lyon, accepted that we didn't do it quite well or we didn't deserve to go through. It was painful but at the end what could we do?"

"After a few days, wake up again and prepare for next season."

City midfielder Rodri echoes his manager's thoughts about the one that got away.

He said: "When you get these difficult defeats you learn and face the next one with even more ambition and desire."

"It is what we are going to try to do. But as I told your partner we have to be focused on us."

"It would be bad for us if we decelerate because we want to achieve big things in a short time. We have to keep calm and do our game."

Rodri says City have even more incentive to win the Champions League this year. He thinks it would be a fitting send-off for Aguerro.

He added: "We have the motivation of every single year. Sergio is a very, very important player for us."

"He deserves to go in the best way and for me it will be a dream to achieve this competition with him and the team."

"It would be the very best present for him and for everyone."

But Rodri says winning every time you go on the pitch is crucial to success for City this season.

He added: "For me all the competitions are the same. I want to win everything."

Focused

"It is true that it is a very tough competition. Anything can happen in two games but it demands you to be focused over 90 minutes."

"We have to be focused on this lovely competition."

"We have experience of these situations and we're going to face a very good team whoever you play in the Champions League."

Chelsea aggro a positive sign for Alonso

FIGHTING SPIRIT: Alonso is happy to see his pals scrap

MARCOS Alonso says Chelsea's training ground punch-up proves that the players care.

Antonio Rudiger and Kepa Arrizabalaga were at each others' throats after the defender went in hand on the goalie.

He was sent for an early bath by boss Thomas Tuchel after the players squared up on the training pitch.

It's not the first time Rudiger has reportedly got stuck into one of his team-mates. Insiders says he's had handbags with Cesar Azpilicueta too.

Tuchel says the matter has been dealt with and Blues defender Alonso is fine with the whole situation.

He said: "These are things that happen."

Training

"It shows the level of competition that there is in the team, the hunger."

"We saw it even on the training ground and that is good for the team."

"Even before training was finished it was all good. It is nothing new, it has always happened and it will still happen."

"We just need to take the positives and move on, get ready for the next game."

Tuchel is still smarting from losing his first game since taking over from Frank Lampard at Stamford Bridge.

It was a shock that struggling West Brom were the team to do it, handing out a 5-2 defeat in west London. That ended a 14-

PUNCH-UP FINE SAYS MARCOS

match run without a loss and the German gaffer is not happy. Reports from inside the club suggest he ripped into Kurt Zouma and Jorginho who copped much of the blame — even though defender Thiago Silva got sent off.

Zouma said: "Everyone's very disappointed, there's not much I can say."

"Maybe we weren't focused enough, maybe West Brom wanted it more than us, but I don't think that's possible. You have days like that where nothing goes your way."

"You have to learn from everything. In football you have to give your all every time on the pitch."

"We learn tactically from mistakes on the ball, without the ball too. We will analyse it calmly and then move on from there."

It's clear that Thiago Silva is a special one for Tuchel thanks to their time at Paris St Germain. And the Chelsea boss has refused to criticise the Brazil veteran.

He said of the stopper: "We have an exceptional and very special relationship."

"He was my captain at PSG and was super reliable. He's one of the best players and has a great personality."

"We had a connection very quickly in Paris, and finding him here was a pleasure."

One Chelsea legend thinks the honeymoon period is already over for Tuchel.

Alan Hudson thinks he has been lucky with a lot of his results and there hasn't been a huge improvement.

Mess

He said: "I really don't think much has changed since Lampard's sacking."

"After all, it was a six goal thriller at the Hawthorns, where the trouble with Marcos Alonso started plus didn't Thiago Silva also mess up there on his debut?"

"Lampard three, Tuchel five conceded against a relegated team, unthinkable!"

Chelsea took West Brom far too lightly, for which I blame Tuchel. He sat there after Chelsea scored as if it was in the bag. It sends out bad vibes and Chelsea were far too unprofessional."

READY TO GO: Burns

BURNS BACKED TO FIRE UP LIONS

CRICKET By ANDY MILLOM

ENGLAND legend Alec Stewart is backing Rory Burns to find his form at Test level this summer.

The Surrey opener had a torrid time in India and has come in for plenty of stick after a run of poor scores.

But Oval cricket chief Stewart thinks Burns will be back in action for England this summer. He said: "He is a very, very impressive person, a real honest person, a real fighter as well."

"He's been that since he was 13. This winter he didn't go to Sri Lanka, then they moved on to India where the pitches were tough and everyone struggled. He got left out. Whether that was the right decision or not, you could argue that other people could be left out as well."

"But if you go to that back-end of last summer, we were talking that going to Australia and the Ashes, a lot may have been saying the top six is already sorted."

"There's Burns, Sibley, Crawley, who'd just got 260-odd, then Root, Ben Stokes and Ollie Pope at six and Jos Buttler seven."

"So it's almost all sorted, then you have a unique tour, a big series against India on surfaces where they struggled as well."

"Virat Kohli, one of the best players in the world, what did he average, 27 or something?"

"So it was tough, but I think you have to put that in perspective and not forget all the good that England did against West Indies and Pakistan, and in Sri Lanka as well."

"We were all pretty happy with that group of players and now, because of a unique series against India, it's all of a sudden, 'should he be slung out, should he be slung out?' I would be very surprised if Burns doesn't score heavily for us in these first seven Championship games."

"And I'd be even more surprised if he's not walking out to bat alongside Sibley in the first Test match."

Burns is looking forward to getting his pads on this week.

He added: "I've got a few things I want to work on personally in my training, but it's a great opportunity to score some runs for Surrey."

"I love doing that, I love captaining this group of blokes, so that's basically how I'm approaching the season."

£55M ERLING SHOCK!

Dortmund must cash in this summer

BORUSSIA Dortmund could lose at least £55m if they don't sell Erling Haaland this summer.

That's because the red-hot striker has a release clause kicking into his contract next season.

If reports are correct,

By JOHN ANTHONY

that would mean the big Norwegian could leave for just £65m instead of the £120m it would cost to get him this summer.

So the German giants have to sell at the end of the current campaign to make the most of their prized asset.

Haaland has been in amazing form since arriving in Dortmund with 49 goals in 50 games.

That has sparked a massive rush for his signature with both Manchester clubs vying with the likes of PSG and Barcelona.

United were thought to be in the driving seat but Pep Guardiola is looking to replace Sergio Aguero who is leaving City at the end of this season.

And his dad Alf Inge said: "I think most players dream of being in the Premier League."

"It's the league that gets the most attention around the world."

"There is no doubt that the Premier League is attractive to him."
